		pproved For Release 2001/04/12 : CIA-RDP82-00457R005200480009-7
		CLASSIFICATION COMPURANTACIATION OF TOTAL
OUNTRY	_ 30	oviet Zone of Germany REPORT NO
OPIC	30	eviet Military Rail Movements in the Misenach Area
~	Manager of an
ALUATION
TE OF	CONT	TENT
AE OBT
A FERENC		DATE
GES	و	ENGLOCUPEO (14 A TITLE
		ENCLOSURES (NO. & TYPE)
MARKS.	delu Propi ro	Att. c.
Medican Professional State Confession	Cratents, .
A	MHOTOL BELLEVI
Market Bally and James	T-H-M-, x-y-q- ₁₋₁₋₁ -
URCE
ONOL	7
	1.	a. A train carrying 15 tanks and an unidentified number of motor vehicles was seen at the Gotha
X1C		railroad station at 11:40 a.m. on 20 April 1950. The train was headed toward Bisenach. The motor
		h. A train correging 2 AA cuns le au cuns end
	•	b. A train carrying 2 AA guns, 10 AT guns, and an unidentified number of motor vehicles and troops
X1C	,	wearing red-bordered, black epaulets was observed at the Proettstedt railroad station on the Gotha-
X1C		b. A train carrying 2 AA guns, 10 AT guns, and an unidentified number of motor vehicles and troops wearing red-bordered, black epaulets was observed at the Proettstedt railroad station on the Gothar Disenach line at 7-20 a.m. on the same day. The
X1C		wearing red-bordered, black epaulets was observed at the Proettstedt railroad station on the Gotha-
	2.	wearing red-bordered, black epaulets was observed at the roettstedt railroad station on the Gothar Lisenach line at 7-20 a.m. on the same day. The
	2.	wearing red-bordered, black epaulets was observed at the Froettstedt railroad station on the Gothanilisenach line at 7-20 a.m. on the same day. The Lith a train being assembled on 22 April 1950 rail- road cars were observed which were previously used for wearing red-bordered, black epaulets was observed at the Froettstedt railroad station on the Gothar Lisenach line at 7-20 a.m. on the same day. The
	•	wearing red-bordered, black epaulets was observed at the Proettstedt railroad station on the Gothan Disenach line at 7-20 a.m. on the same day. The With a train being assembled on 22 April 1950 rail- road cars were observed which were previously used for military shipments and still bore the following rem-
	•	wearing red-bordered, black epaulets was observed at the Proettstedt railroad station on the Gothan Disenach line at 7-20 a.m. on the same day. The With a train being assembled on 22 April 1950 rail- road cars were observed which were previously used for military shipments and still bore the following rem-
	•	wearing red-bordered, black epaulets was observed at the Proettstedt railroad station on the Gothan Disenach line at 7-20 a.m. on the same day. The With a train being assembled on 22 April 1950 rail- road cars were observed which were previously used for military shipments and still bore the following rem-
	•	wearing red-bordered, black epaulets was observed at the Proettstedt railroad station on the Gothan Disenach line at 7-20 a.m. on the same day. The With a train being assembled on 22 April 1950 rail- road cars were observed which were previously used for military shipments and still bore the following rem-
	•	wearing red-bordered, black epaulets was observed at the Proettstedt railroad station on the Gothan Disenach line at 7-20 a.m. on the same day. The With a train being assembled on 22 April 1950 rail- road cars were observed which were previously used for military shipments and still bore the following rem-
	•	wearing red-bordered, black epaulets was observed at the Froettstedt railroad station on the Gothar Lisenach line at 7-20 a.m. on the same day. The With a train being assembled on 22 April 1950 railroad cars were observed which were previously used for military shipments and still bore the following remants of inscription:
	•	wearing red-bordered, black epaulets was observed at the Proettstedt railroad station on the Gothan Disenach line at 7-20 a.m. on the same day. The With a train being assembled on 22 April 1950 rail- road cars were observed which were previously used for military shipments and still bore the following rem-
25X1	•	wearing red-bordered, black epaulets was observed at the Proettstedt railroad station on the Gothar Disenach line at 7-20 a.m. on the same day. The Vith a train being assembled on 22 April 1950 rail- road cars were observed which were previously used for military shipments and still bore the following rem- nants of inscription: Document No. No Change in Class
25X1	•	wearing red-bordered, black epaulets was observed at the Proettstedt railroad station on the Gothanisenach line at 7-20 a.m. on the same day. The Vith a train being assembled on 22 April 1950 rail- road cars were observed which were previously used for military shipments and still bore the following rem- nants of inscription: Document No

Approved For Release 2001/04/12 : CIA-RDP82-00457R005200480009-7